

ST. PETERSBURG LIBRARY SYSTEM

girls who CODE

Girls Who Code aims to teach young women the basics of computer science and programming in order to close the gender gap in the tech industry. Our program is for girls in grades 6-8.

WHEN:

Starting March 14th, every Wednesday from 4:30 p.m. — 6:00 p.m. during the school year.

WHERE:

James Weldon Johnson Community Library
1059 18th Avenue South
Call (727)893-7113 or stop by to register.