Genealogical Records Workshop

March 14, 2015

2:30–5:30 p.m.

St. Petersburg Main Library

3745 9th Ave. N.

Bring old family Bibles which contain genealogical data (births, marriages, and deaths) to the workshop where they will be copied (by digital photography to safeguard the binding), transcribed and indexed to be preserved at the DAR Library in Washington, D.C.

Lineage research specialists will assist anyone interested in becoming members of the DAR and SAR.

The general public is welcome. There is no charge, and no registration is required.

The DAR, founded in 1890 and headquartered in Washington, D.C., is a volunteer women's service organization dedicated to promoting patriotism, preserving American history, and securing America's future through better education for children.

Presented by members of the Boca Ciega, Caravel, Princess Hirihiagua, and Saint Petersburg Chapters of the Daughters of the American Revolution.
